

Martha's Vineyard Land Bank Commission

25th Anniversary Photography Scavenger Hunt

Grab a Land Bank map and your digital camera. The Martha's Vineyard Land Bank Commission is sponsoring a photography scavenger hunt in honor of its 25th anniversary.

See the island like you have never seen it before. The scavenger hunt will take you from the Vineyard's inner depths to the margins of its coastline. You'll see several of the island's most beautiful natural points of interest and a couple of fascinating man-made ones as well.

Here's what you need:

A scavenger hunt list and a Conservation Lands Map (both items are available at the Land Bank offices at 167 Main Street, Edgartown or on-line at www.mvlandbank.com), a digital camera or cell phone that can take pictures, and a friend to snap the shutter.

Here's how it works:

Visit 15 out of 20 of the properties on the scavenger hunt list and find the noted points of interest. Have your friend take your picture with the point of interest in the background as proof that you found it. Submit your photos to the Land Bank either by dropping them off, emailing them, or bring your phone/camera to the office and Land Bank staff will look at them right then and there. Scavengers who successfully complete the hunt will have their names put on the Scavenger Hunt bulletin board. At the end of the contest all names will go into a drawing for a grand prize. Deadline for submission of photos is October 12, 2011.

Find 15 of the 20 following points of interest. Good Luck!

Aquinnah Headlands Preserve: Vanderhoop Homestead

Chilmark Pond Preserve: field oak

Christiantown Woods Preserve: old root cellar

Farm Pond Preserve: freshwater pond just east of the Oak Bluffs School

Gay Head Moraine: old farmstead's stonewall pens

Katama Point Preserve: view of Edgartown Center

Little Duarte's Pond: row of furrows from when property was a vineyard

Moshup Beach: freshwater stream draining into the ocean

North Neck Highlands Preserve: top of cliff stairs over Cape Poge Gut

Peaked Hill Reservation: World War II machine-gun nests at former radar installation

Pecoy Point Preserve: footbridge over tongue of saltmarsh

Pennywise Preserve: frost bottom between the two fields

Ramble Trail Preserve: beach-stones and cliff as seen from the beach itself

Sailors' Burying Ground: stone entrance gates

Sweetened Water Preserve: Google Pond

Quamox Preserve: small coastal pond next to Katama Bay

Quansoo Preserve: view of Indian Hill

Thimble Farm: daisies in the field

Three Ponds Reservation: cemetery atop hill at Hickory Cove

Wompesket Preserve: ditch at far southern end of property